"The environment, so far as is known, contains no mineral deposits of note. Gold has been reported from the region of the Cerro Blanco—which might be expected in view of the fact that gold is mined in the Chiquitos region to the south and has been mined in the Cerro San Simón to the north—but no deposits of significance have ever been worked. Stone is unknown in Mojos, although a poor grade of igneous rock is found along the Río Itenez and the Río Blanco. In the entire region there is no salt, coal, or petroleum."
